

ECONOMIC EMPOWERMENT BLACK AMERICA AND NORWEGIAN MINORITIES

The U.S. Embassy and the Nobel Peace Center welcome you to a seminar on Monday 15 March from 14 to 16.

Valerie Wilson from the National Urban League will speak on economic empowerment among the Black community in the U.S., and Norwegian representatives will discuss the topic of economic empowerment among minorities in Norway. How can economic empowerment be attained? And what role can economic empowerment play in encouraging equality and integration?

Venue: The exhibition From King to Obama at the Nobel Peace Center, Rådhusplassen, Oslo

Key note speaker: Valerie Rawlston Wilson, PhD, VP Research, National Urban League Policy Institute

Also on the panel:

Dilek Ayhan, Managing Director, Alarga

Ingrid Stange, Director of Philantropy, Formuesforvaltning

Moderator: Bjørn Hansen

Registration from 13.30. Light refreshments.

RSVP by 11 March to: LTJ@nobelpeacecenter.org

Photo: © Bob Adelman / Magnum Photos

There is nothing new about poverty. What is new, however, is that we now have the resources to get rid of it.

- Martin Luther King, Jr.

Nobel Peace Center
Nobels Fredssenter

PRESS, EDUCATION AND CULTURAL AFFAIRS
U.S. EMBASSY OSLO